Headline:
Bright morning. Cloudier afternoon with some snow.

Today:
Dry, bright morning with sunny spells across the Lothians and Borders. However cloud increases with outbreaks of mainly light snow and coastal rain or sleet, with perhaps some freezing rain in west, edging east through the afternoon. Strengthening southeasterly winds. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Tonight:
Rather cloudy overnight with patchy mainly light snow, although some clear spells possible for the Lothians. Strong southeasterly winds with coastal gales developing. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Sunday:
Some brighter spells in east, but generally cloudy with outbreaks of sleet, snow, and perhaps freezing rain leading to icy surfaces. The snow turning increasingly to rain later. Windy. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Rather cloudy, although east occasionally brighter, through into mid-week with occasional rain or showers. Much milder with a significant thaw of lying snow and lighter winds than over the weekend.
